

Jean-Romain Vesperini's recent and upcoming engagements include Le comte Ory at Opéra de Québec, La Fille du Régiment at the Royal Opera of Versailles, Le Nozze di Figaro at Liege Opéra Royal de Wallonie, Der Freischütz at Theater Kiel, Henry VIII at the Fisher Center Bard College, Faust at the Festival d'opéra de Québec, Gianni Schicchi with Kent Nagano at the Napa Valley Festival del Sole, Lancelot at Opéra de Saint-Étienne, La bohème at the Bolshoi Theatre Moscow, Don Pasquale at the Napa Valley Festival del Sole and Giovani voci alla Fenice gala at Teatro La Fenice di Venezia.

His past engagements include Boris Godunov at Opéra Grand Avignon and Opéra de Monte-Carlo, Faust at Opéra national de Paris, La Cenerentola at New Generation Festival in Florence, La bohème at the Bolshoi Theatre Moscow, Turandot at the Ural Opera Ekaterinburg, Godard's Dante at Opéra de Saint-Étienne, Lucia di Lammermoor with Opéra de Limoges, Opéra de Rouen Normandie and Opéra de Reims, Carmen with Opera Hong Kong, along with numerous theatrical productions.

He has collaborated with famous directors such as Peter Stein, Luc Bondy and Georges Lavaudant and such conductors as Daniele Rustioni, Tugan Sokhiev, Giacomo Sagripanti, Sir Antonio Pappano, Michel Plasson, Kirill Petrenko, Antonello Allemandi, Myung Whun Chung, Zubin Mehta, Alain Lombard, Kazushi Ono and Jérémie Rohrer.

He made his debut at Opera National de Paris with a new production of Gounod's Faust conducted by Michel Plasson, starring the tenor Piotr Beczala.

Among other engagements are Lancelot at Opera de Saint-Etienne, Gounod's Faust for the Quebec Opera House, Elisir d'Amore for the Festival Napa Valley, Carmen for the French May Festival at the Hong Kong Cultural Center, La Traviata for the Operas of Limoges, Reims and Rennes. The production has been broadcast on France Musique and national television with great success. He was then re-invited to create a new co-production with Opera de Rouen of Lucia di Lammermoor.

At the Lyon Opera House, he staged the modern opera Douce et Barbe Bleue by Isabelle Aboulker and Pinocchio by Thierry Lalo at Opéra National de Paris. From 2008 until 2012 Vesperini held the position of resident director for the festival 'Nuits de Corte' in Corsica where he directed Don Giovanni, Die Zauberflöte and Il Barbiere di Siviglia. He has staged the Paris Opera Competition, Les Mozart de l'Opéra at the Théâtre des Champs Élysées in Paris.

As a collaborator, he worked on such operas as Don Carlo at the Salzburg Festival and La Scala, Aida at the Stanislavsky Theatre in Moscow, Pique Dame, La Clemenza di Tito, Berg's Lulu at Opera National de Lyon - which Vesperini revived himself at La Scala and at the Wiener Festwochen, La Damnation de Faust at the Bolshoi in Moscow and Verdi's Attila in Verona.

Jean-Romain Vesperini is a stage director for both drama and opera. He studied acting at l'Ecole du Théâtre National de Chaillot in Paris and singing at the Guildhall School of Music and Drama in London.

